TERRE HAUTE, Sept. 25 .- The world's trot-The Abbot to 2:03%, which is a reduction of haif a second of the record made by Aiix at Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 19, 1894. The new coampion trotter is a highly formed sevenyear-old bay gelding by Chimes, dam Nettie King, by Mambrino King. He is a product of the noted Village Farm, located near East Aurors, and owned by C. J. and Harry Hamlin of Buffalo. He still belongs to the veteran breeder and his son, and to-day e was driven by the skilful reinsman Ed. F. seers, who is the chief trainer for the flamling and has given to the great gelding most of his training since a colt. The Abbot went into winter quarters last year with a record of anoth and had shown so well publicly that many expert horsemen thought him one of he greatest trotters ever foaled. This or there being no regular classes for him on account of the scarcity of trotters in training with extreme fast records, the horse bas en gradually prepared for his effort to-day. During several exhibitions against time he showed improvement right along, so that when e horse landed here a few days ago he had he best gelding record, 2:04, made at the Empire City track, New York, and the best wagon mark for troters, 2:061/2, made at the same

The track here to-day was in prime condition.

The footing was perhaps nearly as perfect as could be, and if there was any handicap to retard the gelding's speed it was the slight head wind in the first and last quarters. The about was paced by two runners that were en by John Dickerson and Charles Lyens. The fractional time of the mile was 0:31%, 1:02%. 314, 2.034. After the phenomenal exhibition was continued cheering and great excitenent, as the crowd, though not very large, had een brought up to a high pitch by the great perrmance to wagon by Coney, driven by Edwin Gaylor, an amateur. Many watches in the hands of experts who stood close the wire or were right over it favored Coney as against the offitime, making it as fast as 2:08%. d some even faster. In the case of The Abbot the same is true in showing the conservtism of the official timers, as many "clocked" be trotter's mile in 2:02% and others in 2:03. The mark of 2:03% is now the world's for pacers to wagon driven ov an amateur. It was set up by the fiveyear-old black gelding Coney, with a sulky ord of 2:02%, by McKinney, dam Grace Kaiser, by Kaiser. He was bred by John W. Gardiner of Los Angeles, Cal. To-day oney was driven by Edwin Gaylord, a memer of the Gentlemen's Driving Club f Denver and wealthy roadile of the locky Mountain city. The wagon record for pacers, piloted by an amateur driver, was 2:04 , held by the Chicago roadite C. K. G. Bilings and his gelding Free Bond. This perormance took place at the Empire City course, New York, week before last. The horse s owned by James But'er, proprietor of View Stock Farm. New York, and he is a member of the racing stable managed by Thomas E. Keating. Mr. Gaylord never had driven the horse until to-day. He gave him a cour is of slow warming-up miles before his successful effort against the world s record. The fractional time of the 2 0334. FIRST DAY AT MINEOLA.

Bicycle and Trotting Baces the Attractions at Queens County Fair. "Bicycle Day" at the Mineola fair yesterday brought out the largest first day crowd in sev eral years. The programme included five cycle races and two trotting events and the sport was excellent. There were about five housand persons present, and while the exhibits of poultry, cattle and farm produce undoubtedly attracted many, the spectators i the grand stand made up an unmistakable bicycle crowd. An added feature of the programme was Miss Lilian Schafer in equestrian exhabitions. She showed a proficient high school horse, a jumper, and rode a half-mile running race in a jockey costume against a guideless runner. The latter won in 33/seconds. The novice bicycle event, with six in the final, resulted in an interesting race. The youngsters rode up the stretch to the tape in a close bunch, and C. A. Smith won by a length cas the result of a burst of speed ten yards from the line. There were only inches separating the second and third men. LaDue made a fine winning in the one-mile handicap. There were twelve starters in the final heat, and coming up the stretch La Due was pocketed at the rear of the bunch. Some of those in front of him wearied and left an opening which LaDue went through like a shot and finished first by a length. Van Cott beat Merkert half a length for the place. The half-mile handicap was won by Libschik by alength, after a furious sprint, in a style that warranted the predictions of his fellows of the Orange Wheelmen that he is "a comer." exhautions. She showed a proficient high

In every heat of the one-mile handicap ex-cept the second some of the riders fell. The two Bedell boys from Lynbrook were unlucky in the third heat. John Bedell had his head out open from a fall in the stretch and Menus Bedell was thrown in front of the paddock during the final heat and had to be carried of the track. Both belong to the Kings County Wheelmen. The two trotting events were interesting because of the big fields, but Monk, a twelve-year-old gelding belonging to C. H. L. Hommedieu, of Islip, won the 2:25 class handly in three atraight heats, while Gladys captured the three-minute county class. Summaries.

SPORT AT WHITE PLAINS. Two Harness Races of Eight Heats Take Over

Three Hours to Decide.

About fifteen years ago, when Jimmy Gold smith drove the bay horse Domestic ahead of Lowland Mary, Dobson's roan mare, and lowered the White Plains track record of 2:251/4. held by the latter, to 2:25, to an old-fashioned high-wheel sulky, the track was better than it was yesterday, the opening day of the West-chester County Fair races. Such was the verdict of horsemen who took part in the events that were decided. The harness competitions were teddecided. The harness competitions were tealious affairs, and Mr. Travis gave a poor exhibition of starting. It required more than three hours to get off eight heats: but the spectators took it good naturedly, their attention being somewhat diverted by a man on the infield, who jumped off a 90-foot ladder into a tub of water. Eight horses faced the starter for the 2:35 trot. Jerome Whelpley with the black mare Lady Travis won the first heat from James McConahan's black stallion Too Soon and Dave Herrington's Master Chimes by a length, with the others strung out in single file many lengths back. Too Soon captured the second heat, Lady Travis having been sent away on a break: but she easily trotted past the bunch in the next two heats, finishing as she pleased. Bine Wilkes won the first heat in the 2:15 pace, but was unable to forge to the front again, the black gelding, Sir Arthur, taking the three following heats off the reel. The prettiest heat of the race was the third, when Maloney made a fine one-handed drive down to the wire. In the fourth heat, however, he did not have it so easy. Merritt Wilkes made it warm for him and he was obliged to use both hands to the best of his ability.

The races to-day are likely to prove more interesting. They are the 2:21 and 2:26 trots, with ten and sixteen entrier, respectively. Judging in the horse show will also begin to-day and a large number of bigh-class horses will be exhibited in the field in front of the grand stand. Summary of the races yesterday:

The Talent Pares Poorly at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25.—Favorites fell down in the first two races at Electric Park this afternoon and the talent received little opportunity for recovering in the final event, for Anelia Pediar was at nearly prohibitive odds in the first heat of the 2:21 trot and no pools were sold at all on the two succeeding ones. Trotling Note. Gomba, the seven-year-old son of Dictator, occupies an exceptional position among Austrian trotters. For the third season its owner is alternately using that fine horse for racing and breeding purposes. At the autumn meeting the somewhat rare event of father and son trotting side by side for first place will be celebrated.—Vienna Sport Zeitung.

A club at Hartford is negotiating for a match between Jimmy Handler and Kid Carter of Brooklyn.

Tim Callahan of Philadelphia has mailed a challenge to ben Jordan. He agrees to meet the Englishman at London for a big side bet, the weight to be 122 pounds.

Fleuron-Gala Day for Jockey Henry. A stake and two handicaps were the features an interesting card at Gravesend yesterday. The selling events filled well and the tempting speculative outlook combined with fine autumn weather and the assurance of a good track brought out a large crowd. Favorites again proved unprofitable investments as only a ouple pulled through. This however, was more the fault of the talent than the horses, some of the unsuccessful first choices having little beyond paddock and rail bird tips to recommend them.

Only five of the ten named for the Rayshore

Stakes faced the ordeal but even then the plungers went astray. They blindly followed S. C. Hildreth's movement to win out Meehanus, the horse he had purchased last week for a fancy price. The books offered 5 to 2 against the "beef an" idol but quickly cut the odds to 9 to 5, when the new owner's commission reached the market. Potente, The Pride and Lieber Karl were supported in the order named, but the other candidate, Bettle Gray, was ignored. Burns took the track with Lieber Karl at once and holding his advantage to the end won handily by three lengths, Meehanus hung on fairly well for five furlongs, but then curied up, and The Pride beat him two lengths for the place. Hidreth relieved his feelings by raising the winner from $1,000 to $2,000 before letting him return to the Schorr barn.

The formidable-looking Schorr pair, Silver Dale and Lady Schorr, were taken out of the handicap for two-year-olds, first on the card, and in their absence Elizabeth M. attracted all the heavy play. An enthusiastic contingent from Philadelphia, followed by most of the regulars, forced her odds from 5 to 2 to 8 to 5 and cashed in without any incidental worry as she left her field in the first few strides and opened a gap of five lengths. Henry eased her up nearing the goal and let her gallop over the line four lengths clear of a struggling bunch, out of which Lucrana, the Musketeer, Colchester and Scurry emerged, heads apart. Kar! at once and holding his advantage to the gling bunch, out of which Luerana, the Musketeer, Colchester and Scurry emerged, heads apart.

Kamara accepted the honor of top weight in the handicap for three-year-old fillies and the wily bookmakers took the hint and posted 7 to 10. They offered 2 to 1 against Motley and fancy odds against the other three candidates. The Candlemas filly was attempting to concede fifteen pounds each to Fleuron and Star Chime, and as a natural sequence they beat her, Fleuron, at 10 to 1, winning in a mild drive by two lengths from Star Chime, at 15 to 1, with Kamara struggling gamely at the latter's throat latch. The time was wretchedly slow, and haif a dozen fillies fretting in their stalls could have beaten it at least a second.

The McCafferty party showed the utmost confidence in the ability of Himtine to beat his eight opponents in the selling-race dash which followed the stake event. Fluke kept them guessing for five furlongs, but Henry then rushed Himtine to the front and won by a length and a half from Bufloon, who caught Fluke in time to secure the place by a head.

Although only four horses turned out for the one mile and a furlong event the boys could not resist the temptation to crowd. McMeekin, the favorite, and Serrano, second choice, alternated in the lead for nearly a mile when O'Connor came around on the outside with Andronicus and brought him home a length in front of Intrusive Spencer made a complaint of interference and Intrusive was disqualified as the chief offender.

Andronicus and brought him home a sength in front of Intrusive.

Spencer made a complaint of interference and Intrusive was disqualified as the chief offender, the horses being replaced as shown in the summary. Burns, who rode the Meddier horse, was set down for two days.

Animosity, well played at 3 to 1, won the closing event all the way, although ridgien out at the end to stall off the challenge of Dangerfield. The Golden Prince, Luck and Billionaire came next in close order, and Brensan, who rode Luck was set down for the week, in Shaw's complaint that he had crowded the favorite at a critical point. Trouble almost invariably follows any race in which Andronicus figures and the only exception yesterday was that Arthur Featherstone's erratic horse pulled through triumphantly. Bough riding was the order from the backstretch to the home turn, but the stewards held Burns responsible and let O'Connor keep his hard-earned honors.

Treasurer's Statement of the Princeton Athlette Association. PRINCETON, Sept. 25.-Treasurer George Murray of the Princeton Athletic Association to-day gave out his semi-annual statement of the inancial standing of the association, covering the receipts and expenditures in all branches of athletics from Jan. 1 to July 1, 1900. The report shows that the association is in much better shape financially than it was a year ago, when there was a deficit of about $4,000. This year there is a balance on hand of $1,061.11. The healthy condition of affairs is attributed to the successful baseball season, which netted a profit of $4,76,74, nearly $2,000 more than the

the successful baseball season, which netted a profit of $4.76.74, nearly $2.000 more than the previous year.

The increase is accounted for by the fact that the last game with Harvard was played here during commencement week instead of earlier in the season, as has been the case in former years. The track team ran behind nearly $1,500, the actual receipts being $1,437.16. The spring season, however, was more expensive than usual owing to the long schedule of events, although the $4,000 which was expended on the trip of the athletes to Paris was contributed by the alumni and undergraduates and does not figure in the treasurer's report. The statement of the football association covers only the moneys received and expended during the spring term.

According to the treasurer's report the total receipts amounted to $23,849.11. Of this amount $111.54 was received as a balance from the baseball association on Jan. I, while $12,067.33 is the income from the buseball team from all sources. The track association's receipts from all sources amounted to $2,888.76, and the football association handed in $1,328.02. A balance of $1,820.72 was brought over from last year's general expense account, and $5,662.74 as was credited to the same account since Jan. 1. The disbursements, which include $12,168.87 for the baseball association, $1,288.76 for the track association, $1,280.2 for the football association, $4,284.76 or the track association, $4,284.76 or the football association and $6,422.35 on the general expense account, amounted to $2,788, which leaves a balance in the treasury of $1,061.11.

Yorks Lose Twice at Boston-St. Louis Wins. The Brooklyns now lead the League race by ten points. The Champions were beaten in a 2 to 1 game by the Philadelphias yesterday, but as the Pittsburgs did not play, Hanlon's men still have a fighting chance to keep in front. In order to do so, however, they will have to take a tremendous brace in their general play instead of indulging in rowdyism to cover up defects. The New York tail-enders were twice walloped in Boston and lost the best chance they have had in months to climb out of the tail-end place. St. Louis easily disposed of Chicago and stands a chance to secure fifth place. The results: Philadelphia, 2; Brooklyn, 1.

PHILADELPHIA, 2; BROOKLYN, 1. In spite of the manifesto issued by C. H. Ebbets, President of the Brooklyn club. on Monday, to the effect that rowdyism would be effectually squelched by him at Washington Park, there was another disgraceful exhibition of the national game there yesterday, which culminated in a fight and the appearance of the the police on the field. President Ebbets was in the centre of the melee as peacemaker, not referee, but his work was ineffective, though after it was all over he made several new threats. The Brooklyns were beaten again because they could not hit the pitching of Frazer. The Champions threw away several chances for runs by poor base-running, though they stole in all eight bases off McFarland. Kennedy pitched magnificent ball and worked like a beaver. He made a two-bagger in the seventh and a single in the fifth; but got no assistance. The Brooklyns made their only run in the second inning when Slagle muffed Dahlen's easy fly, which yielded two bases. Then Dahlen stole third and ran in on McGuire's fly to left. Kennedy was repeatedly cheered for his pitching in the first five innings, during which the big Quakers couldn't make a run. There had been no kicking in that time, either, but the game had dragged along in the most tiresome manner, the first three innings being completed in one bour and three minutes.

Flick opened the sixth inning with a base on balls. McFarland hit to Jennings, who was playing second base, and looked like an easy victim. Jennings, however, made a wild throw past Kelley to the bleachers, Flick reaching third and McFarland second. Wolverton popflied to Dahlen and Cross sent a long drive to Jones. As the latter caught the ball flick logged toward the plate, there being little chance to throw him out. McFarland made a dash for third and Jones threw the ball on a line to Cross. Umpire Hurst rap down to see the play at third, never looking at Flick, and as McFarland was touched out the umpire said so. As a matter of fact McFarland was put out before Flick crossed the plate, for the latter walked the last few yards to the rubber, Under the rules the run did not count but, of course, Hurst having his back turned to effectually squelched by him at Washington Park, there was another disgraceful exhibition before the out or not.

The Brooklyns rushed at the umpire in a body.

Sixth Race—One mile and 20 yards—Double Dummy, 97 (Booker), 8 to 8, won, Miss Soak, 166 (Alker) 6 to 8, second; Windward, 97 (Wonderly), 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:43.

Turf Notes.

It cost John F. Schorr nearly the value of the stake to protect Lieber Karl after he won the Bayshore yesterday.

P. H. McCarren's Potente was played as a stake horse yesterday, but finished ingloriously at the wrong end of the procession.

After Luerana ran second to Elizabeth M. at Gravesend yesterday, John E. Madden purchased her from T. Murphy for $2,300. She is a racy looking bay fully by Russell—Cheesestraw and has a fine turn of speed.

Jockey Bullman, who is on the ground until the Brooklyn meeting ends, was agreeably surprised yes terday by an oder from S. C. Hildreth to carry the latter's colors next season. The contract is said to be worth $15,000 to the lockey.

Jockey Henry and his followers must have reaped a harvest at Gravesend yesterday. The boy started off with two wins in succession, one being at 10 to 1. He finished in the money with Mechanus and then put Himitine over the plate. Henry did not ride in the subsequent races.

The extra card for Friday at Gravesend is out, and an predicted it is much above the "off-day" standard.

Tarf Notes.

The Brooklyns rushed at the umpire in a body. They wanted Hur t to declare that Flick's run didn't count. They gesticulated and argued for fully flow minuses while Hur t said he could not cut the run off as he had not seen the play. The champions were in bad humor over this incident and scowied at the umpire as they slowly refracted to the bench under fire. Possibly they forgot that Flick would never have slowly they forgot that Flick would not cut the run off as he had not seen the play be locked to the play be slowly refracted to the bench under fire. Possibly they forgot that Flick would not even the sixth inning closed Umpire Hurst, who had been trying to hurry the game, notified the players merely laughed at the umpire and continued their dilatory tactics.

The extra card for Friday at Gravesend is out, and as precised it is much above the "off-day" standard. Three handicaps are provided, the Foulevard for two-year-oids, the Ocean View for all ages and a hurdle event. Entries for these close to-morrow, and the other events will be kept open intil Thursday.

Capt. Kelley and Secretary Jennings of the Protective Association, which recently declared against rowdyism, were foremost with their protects, which, of curse, amounted to nothing. The players were still loafing along in spite of the umpire, who was determined to have and the other events will be kept open intil Thursday.

of the umpire, who was determined to have his way. In the eighth Flick hit a bail to the ground that Hurst called a foul. Kennedy picked it up and threw to Kelley. Then Kelley, Dahlen, McGuire and Kennedy got around the umpire and wrangled. They wanted Hurst to call it a fair ball and declare Flick out.

After the Quakers had been flanked the Brooklyns tried to raily once more. With two out, Kelley bunted. Cross hit a ball down in front of the plate. Hurst called it a foul. Instantly McFarland threw his mask and chest protector in the air. Delehanty, the Philadelphia captain, rushed into the middle of the diamond and stuck his forefinger on Hurst's shirt front. Hurst pushed the big fellow away, whereupon Dei threw the ball to the ground in a race and stormed around like a madinan.

"Play bail!" yelled the crowd once more, for it was so dark that many were lighting matches and newspapers. Cross singled and Kelley ran to third. Cross stole second and McFarland made a sloppy throw to catch him. Kelley had a fine chance to score, but he stuck to third and Dahlen left both men with a fly to Wolverton. As the inning closed, the crowd, thinking that Hurst would cail the game, began to jump on to the field.

"Play ball!" yelled the umpire, and the spectators clambered back.

"Cail the game! What are you doing, Hurst, giving the Champions a chance to win in tho dark?"

The Philadeiphias gathered around Hurst

The Philade phias gathered around Hurst and protested.
"Play ball" ordered the umpire. "I can see!"
The police were actively engaged now in putting out burning paper and threatening putting out burning paper and threatening men who were indulging in this dangerous fun with airest. It was so dark that the spectators couldn't see where the ball was whenever it was hit. But, nevertheless, the Brooklyns were able to retire the Quakers in the first half of the ninth. As Jennings came to bat for Brooklyn in the last half, a voice from the Philadelphia bench was heard: "Hurst, you are a crook!"

The umpire turned and looked in the direction of the bench.

"It's me," cried one of the Philadelphia players jumping up. "It's me, Dunn." You are a crook."

ers jumping up. "It's me, Dunn." You are a crook."

"You say that again," said Hurst to Dunn, the pitcher recently released by the Brooklyns, who is now with the Philadelphias, "and I'll attend to you after the game."

The play proceeded and, amid a wild demonstration, both Jennings and McGuire struck out. The Philadelphia players delayed the game as much as they could by walking after the ball and defying the umpire to hurry them. Dunn, from the bench, continued his abuse of Hurst and when Kennedy finally ended the game at 6:05 o'clock with a fly to Lajole, Umpire Eurst looked relieved.

f you don't, I will make charges against Burst!" "If you don't, I will make charges against you, Hurst!"
"All right, Mr. Ebbets," was the umpire's answer. "Ill make the usual report to President Young."
"I wont stand this rowdyism!" said the Brooklyn President in a loud voice. "I wont stand it, it's a shame!"
In an interview late last night President Ebbets and the he was delevated the President.

first sign of trouble I shall personally go upon the field accompanied by a policeman and have the gulity player or players removed from the the guilty player or players removed from the grounds at once, no matter whether he is a member of the visiting club or one of the Brooklyn players. While this action may seem to be a little out of order, I think that in view of the fact that the umpire seems to be unable to suppress rowdyism that the course I have decided to follow is the only correct one under the circumstances. That the umpire is powerless to deal with offending players in a case like that of to-day was clearly shown, and I'm going to try my scheme and if that fails I'll try something else. It is stop the scrapping or close the gates, and I have decided to do the former and give the patrons of the game baseball and not battle royals as side shows." The BROOKLYN.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—The Bostons gave a fine exhibition of baseball to-day, their fielding and batting costing the tail-enders two games. In the first game. Nichols had the visitors at his mercy, allowing them but five scattered singles and shutting them out without a run. Splendid hitting in the third inning gave the locals seven runs. In the final game a fine batting rally in the second inning netted the home club six runs. Long sending two men acrose the plate ahead of him with his homer over the left field fence. The scores:

He confirmed the report that he Intends to resign and to leave Yale and go into business. A new captain will have to be elected. The choice lies between Cook, the outfielder, and Sharpe, the first baseman. Both are new playing football. The chances seem to favor Cook.

Probably not one rider in 500 when removing the chain to clean it thinks of taking steps to insure its going back in exactly the same relation to the sprocket, tooth for link, as it was. Few cyclers appreciate that this is a matter that makes any difference and not all repair men are particular about it. The more worn a chain is the more important it is to keep it running in the same old way. The same link of a chain does not engage the same tooth every time, but in the course of its travels the same sets of links follow each other over the same teeth. The wear clicks and jumps. It does it until the new order of running has worn the teeth and links into a new harmony. It is easy when removing a chain to mark one link and one tooth on each sprocket as they are engaged and in replacing to engage them the same way before coupling the ends of the chain. A scratch on the link and the sprocket tooth can be made with a screw driver or a solssor point.

A new style of chain that is being looked upon with favor by the trade is one made up without rivets, the links being 8 shape and hooking into each other. A link can be detached and a new one put in with the fingers. If time proves it practicable it will be a boon to riders, as a broken chain can be fixed anywhere along the road if the victim carries an extra link.

Whisky does not affect the delightfu! flavour and unmistakable aroma peculiar to it, no matter how great the dilution. For this reason a High Ball made with "Canadian Club" is a delightful and satisfying drink. "CANADIAN CLUB" is bottled under the control of the Cana-dian Government, which guar-antees its age and genuineness

LITTLE BOY A FLYER.

Races Around His Field at Readville-Nancy Hanks Beaten in Show Ring.

Boston, Sept. 25.-The second day's racing at the breeders' meeting this afternoon was productive of no sensational performances, unless the work of Little Boy in the 2:08 pace can be considered such. The gelding was not in good humor at the start of the first heat, breaking almost immediately after crossing under the wire. He was far in the rear at the quarter post. Palmer got him going on the back stretch, and the animal saved his distance by a splendid bit of pacing. In the next three heats Little Boy scored behind the bunch of leaders, but on the backstretch went by his of leaders, but on the backstretch went by his opponents as though they were logging and finished an easy winner in each heat.

The 2:14 trot, left unfinished yesterday on account of darkness, went to Miss Duke, six heats being necessary to decide the event. Mr. Lawson's Dreamer was favored, but the black coit proved unsteady, although he won the first heat to-day. In the sixth heat Miss Duke and Dreamer were having a pretty race on the second turn when both broke. Miss Duke sattled down first and won in a hot finish. Lamp Girl made a strong bid for the 2:11 trot, capturing the first two heats. Alcidalia, however, got limbered up in the third heat and won. The fourth and fifth heats also went to Alcidalia.
